

Jolly Ol' St. Nick at the Ars Electronica Center

Our littlest visitors are in for a really big treat on December 6th when St. Nicholas makes a live appearance at the Ars Electronica Center! Highlights tours and lots of fun & surprises are in store for our young guests.

St. Nick will be paying a call on the Ars Electronica Center on December 6 between 3 and 5 PM. To mark the occasion, we're planning a great lineup of fun activities including a tour through the highlights of the new exhibits and some really cool surprises in the Picnic Zone on the 2nd Upper Level.

And to top off this very special day, the Ars Electronica Center invites all visitors— young and old alike—to experience a virtual nativity scene. This manger designed by Linz elementary school kids isn't one that you just observe from outside; you can step right in and explore it in 3D—right alongside the Three Wise Men.
